

My priority references

I have identified the evidence for the dual-energy principle from energy in gravity and its fundamental cosmological relevance in 2019. My findings have been available online and I have communicated them selectively in the science community since 09-2019. I am now beginning a broad rollout with this blog as my original findings may have begun to impact cosmology and be reflected in other upcoming publications. While my peer reviewed publication based on an evolved version is outstanding I suggest to consider the following for proper credit and reference: Ralph B. Hill (11-08-2020), Fundamental Positive-Negative Nature of Energy Sweepingly Addresses Current Problems in Cosmology, viXra:2011.0058, and my initial paper Ralph B. Hill (09-24-2019), Negative Energy from Gravity \(NEG\), Concept, Proof and Sweeping Implications for Cosmology and Theoretical Physics, Introduction of Dual Energy Cosmological Model \(DEC\) and New Dual Energy Physics, viXra:1909.0542.
